University of Instruction Course Competencies

Joint Courses

PHA 1105: Masonic Research I

Upon completion of this course, University participants should be able to:

1. Identify ways to start a research project.

2. Recognize the benefits and shortcomings of a research project.

3. Adhere to ethical standards of research.

4. Exercise basic skills for internet research.

5. Exercise basic writing and referencing skills.

6. Participate in group presentations or masonic educational cases to highlight the importance of the aforementioned competencies.

7. Take a summative exam to assess competency comprehension.